

ENHANCED DENTAL COVERAGE AND MORE

Cigna Dental Oral Health Integration Program

The Cigna Dental Oral Health Integration Program[®] was the first of its kind to enhance dental coverage for individuals with qualifying conditions and for pregnant women because studies show that oral health may have an impact on overall health.* And as the associations between oral and overall health continue to grow, so does our program.

More coverage

Research shows associations between gum disease and complications for heart disease, stroke, diabetes, preterm birth, preeclampsia and other health issues.¹ And we've added coverage for procedures related to cavities because studies show that patients with chronic kidney disease, organ transplants, or head and neck cancer radiation are frequently prone to dry mouth, a condition associated with a higher risk of dental cavities.² As a result, we've enhanced our program to include the following medical conditions and covered dental procedures.

Medical conditions (check mark indicates covered dental service³)

Did you know?

Improving oral health for employees with certain medical conditions (those associated with gum disease) may have a positive effect on their medical condition and result in medical cost savings – both for the client and employees. In fact, Cigna’s ongoing internationally published studies support an association between treated gum disease and lower medical costs. Cigna study findings show average annual medical savings of $1,111, or 29.6%, when periodontal conditions are treated.

Study findings

Average annual savings for those individuals in the study who had proper periodontal treatment

Medical conditions	Savings
Diabetes	$1,687 or 29.9%
Heart disease	$2,101 or 23.2%
Stroke	$2,831 or 34.7%

Our Cigna study also shows:

Customers receiving proper preventive dental treatment have, on average

12.5% less extractions/5.4% less root canals

Customers with gum disease receiving appropriate care have 67% lower hospital admission rate, and 54% lower ER rate.

Our clinical enhancements offer a comprehensive list of covered dental procedures

But we don’t stop there. The Cigna Dental Oral Health Integration Program also includes:
